Narrative Description of Property:

This is a two story residential home built in the Colonial Revival. It has a circular tower with a stone base with swag motif. The siding was originally wood shingles and now is vinyl sided. The porch enclosure has been removed. The gambrel roof gable has an elliptical window with four keystones. The first story windows are two over two wood, and glass doors with transoms. The second story windows are arched. Recently the second story windows were replaced with two sashes instead of three (in 1982 photo). Addition to the east has been removed.

Significance: The criteria of eligibility are associated to Criterion A & C (Properties significant for their association in or linkage to events and architecture/artistic value) for its significance to the history of the Village of Northville, important because of its association to the founding fathers family the Van Arnam's, it gives a sense of place to the community, and is an excellent example of an early Greek Revival building for the village.

Address: 551 Reed
